- Cultivating children's appreciation for water

活動簡介

"H2OPE Centre" is a public education center located in Tin Shui Wai, aiming to enhance public awareness of water resources and water conservation. Through exhibits, live demonstrations, and interactive games, it introduces young children to more information about water resources in an accessible way. The center features 12 themed exhibition areas and 54 exhibits and interactive facilities closely related to children's lives, comprehensively covering multiple areas including water supply history, water ecology, water recycling, water cycle, and water supply engineering.
