To align with the theme of "National Security Education Week," the children of our kindergarten visited Lai Chi Kok Park together, learning about the architectural features of the Lingnan style in China and enriching their understanding and appreciation of Jiangnan culture and architectural art. Guided by their teachers, the children explored different attractions within the park by reading maps and signs, cultivating their ability to use park facilities with care and respect for public property and rules. Simultaneously, teachers designed various STEM games for children of different age groups, allowing them to enjoy the joy of group play and strengthening their relationships with each other.
